Ms. Natalia Borowiec

Dedication

This year, we are honored to dedicate the fifty-first edition of our Memini yearbook to Ms. Natalia Borowiec. Born and raised in Russia, Ms. Borowiec moved to the United States at the age of thirty-three, seeking new opportunities and a new life for both herself and her young daughter, Jane.

Having graduated from Moscow State University in 1986 with a degree in music and from the University of Massachusetts in 2002 with a degree in education, Ms. Borowiec dedicates every possible moment she can to her classes. She absolutely adores her students and oftentimes says that she does not know what she would do without them. Ms. Borowiec grew up in a time and place in which discipline was especially paramount, and, therefore, she greatly appreciates the creativity and individuality displayed in America which was previously not encouraged in Russia.

Before becoming a teacher, Natalia was a concert pianist for the Springfield Symphony Orchestra, where she practiced and rehearsed for twelve or more hours a day. Now and for the past fifteen years, Ms. Borowiec has been teaching piano and directing the chorus here at CCHS, all the while giving private piano lessons on the side. In her spare time, if she can find any, Ms. Borowiec enjoys running, hiking, skiing, and dancing.

Ms. Borowiec's enthusiasm, positivity, and hard-working attitude are only a few of the many reasons why the 2014 Memini staff has chosen to honor her this year. Thank you for all you have done for the Class of 2014, Ms. Borowiec, and congratulations on your dedication!

Ms. Alyson Czelusniak

It is our honor to announce our second dedicatee for the 2014 Memini yearbook, Ms. Alyson Czelusniak. Ms. Czelusniak has gone above and beyond her job description to support the Class of 2014 throughout all of our four years at CCHS.

Ms. Czelusniak is a Special Education Case Manager, the coordinator of the peer mentor program, and an advisor for the Renaissance Club. She graduated from Chicopee High School in 1992 and went on to receive her bachelor's degree in Sports Management from Springfield College and her master's degree in Education from Elms College. In addition to her passion for learning, Ms. Czelusniak is also an avid sports fan, which drove her to take on the position of public address announcer for many of the teams at Comp. Through the various roles she plays in the CCHS community, Ms. Czelusniak seems to know just about everyone whom she encounters, and her caring and spirited personality makes her one of the most well-liked staff members in the building.

In 2010, the tragic loss of one of our own, Kevin Gomez, had an effect not only on the student body, but also on our dedicatee, and it was then that her proactive personality took charge. Dreaming of establishing a basketball tournament in his honor, Ms. Czelusniak put together a team of those closest to Kevin, and the first ever Kevin Gomez Memorial 3v3 Basketball tournament took place that very same year. In the end, it is because of her contributions to both this tournament and to the entire CCHS community that we have chosen to dedicate the fifty-first edition of our Memini yearbook to Ms. Alyson Czelusniak!

Freshman Year

Welcome to the Jungle

Once again, we are the little fish in the very large and brand new pond. During our first year, everyone had their fair share of getting lost whilst hopelessley attempting to find their classes, going up the wrong staircase, getting trampled in the lunch room on chicken patty day, and trying to overcome the nervousness which comes with freshman year. Little did we know that this school would soon become our home, full of teachers and friends who would make our four years at Comp the best of our lives. At first, everyone looked at us like we were nothing, with our massive backpacks, because we thought we did not have enough time to use our lockers, and our clueless expressions as we wandered the halls. We all tried out for sports teams and clubs, hoping to somehow find a place in this gigantic school. We also learned that it IS possible to get from the first floor to the fourth floor in under three minutes, but it was not until Spirit Week that we made our first big statement as a class, when we rocked the Dance Off with some unknown talented dancers and Color Day, when, even though we ultimately lost, we still got a feel of just how close we were all going to be as a class for the rest of our years here. Freshman year held so many memories and experiences which none of us will ever forget. Friendships were formed, and so was a truly amazing class, the Class of 2014.

1. Amanda Robare and Michael Hiersche pose together for a cute couple picture at Brianne Boisselle's Sweet 16.
2. Sacha Roberts shows off her amazing athletic ability in gym class.
3. Spanish 2 students represent our sophomore class proudly by looking spiffy on Dress Up Day.

Sophomore Year

Time To Take Off the Training Wheels

The Class of 2014 managed to survive through our first year of high school and started figuring out just where we all belong in the school as a class. Whether it be sports, music, clubs, or academics, everyone started to find their niche in Chicopee Comp. Getting accustomed to the high school environment was a breeze with the help of the friendly and caring staff. We could finally put away the maps and the clueless looks and get through the school without much trouble. We also learned that we actually did have time to use our lockers in between classes. Sophomore year came with many great moments, including Phu Do and Drew Curto putting on quite the show during the Mr. CCHS competition. An abrupt October snow storm closed school for an entire week and canceled Halloween all across New England, leaving many seniors jumping for joy, and the rest of the school with a short summer break. Thankfully, Comp was cool enough to let us have a late Halloween dress up day to count for points for Spirit Week. We were all finally starting to get used to life inside Chicopee Comp and all the all-nighters which came with keeping up with those good grades. In the end, it was time to take off the training wheels and let the class of 2014 grow to its full potential.

Junior Year

Two Years Down, Two More to Go

Junior year was the year we were finally making it back to the top. It was a year of firsts: the first year that lacrosse came to the City of Chicopee, the first time we could experience Compaccinos, our first high school prom, the first year a lot of us spent an entire Saturday at another school to take the SAT's, and let us not forget the amazing Sword Game win to kick off a great year. Plus, we had a class shirt that was truly epic! Those who took AP classes experienced the exhausting workloads and discovered how to power through all-nighters, but they were also able to relish in the rewards of hard work and how it truly does pay off in the end. Who remembers the hours they spent getting ready for prom? The hundreds of dollars some people spent on dresses, hair, and tuxedos, all to look as perfect as we could until we sweat it all off on the dance floor, when we danced the night away and had the time of our lives. During spirit week, the junior class came within inches of coming in first place, finishing just a few points away from beating the senior class. No matter what happened that year, the Class of 2014 continued to grow as a class and grew even more as a family. We had survived two years already, what's another two more?

1. Anthony Bewsee and Sarah McMahon model their glasses in Ms. Freisberg's photobooth.
2. Patrick Fiske and Shayla Samalot deck themselves out in royal blue to support the Colts at the Sword Game.
3. Comp's senior girls and their escorts represent our city at the Chicopee Colleen Contest.
4. The Class of 2014 gathers in the CTE hallway for the traditional "We're finally seniors!" group shot.

Senior Year

We Came, We Saw, We Conquered

It is finally the year for which we have been waiting eleven years. We are finally the leaders, proudly perched on the top of the food chain. The far away year which we thought would never come is finally upon us. The year we wear on the back of our T-shirts is no longer light years away—it is here. Everybody has been telling us that senior year is a piece of cake; however, we have found it to be the complete opposite. Between the senior project and college and scholarship applications, all on top of our usual workload, senior year has not been as easy as we expected. We are the first group of seniors to experience new AP classes and full-day MMSI Saturday study sessions. On the flip side, we are also the last group of seniors to have the privilege of wearing both blue and gold caps and gowns at graduation. The Class of 2014 is a class of fighters. We have stuck together through moments of devastating tragedy as well as phenomenal triumph. Chicopee Comprehensive High School's Class of 2014 is a class to remember and one which will go down in history. Before we move on to the next chapter of our lives and go our separate ways, we will enjoy our last moments together as a class, representing the blue and gold of Chicopee Comprehensive High School, and rightfully so.

Class Advisors Mr. Dunphy, Mr. Sowa, and Mrs. Bouyea

Leading the Pack

Most classes only come to have two advisors in their time here at CCHS, but the Class of 2014 was gifted with three. During our freshman and sophomore years, Mr. Sowa and Ms. Wands led the class. However, when sophomore year came to a close, Mr. Sowa moved to New York to teach in the Bronx, and we gained a new leader in the form of Mr. Dunphy. Lastly, by the time that senior year rolled around, Ms. Wands became Mrs. Bouyea. You could say that we have had our fair share of changes in leadership throughout the years, but, no matter who has been at the helm of the Class of 2014, they have consistently gone above and beyond in their duties. Whether they are busy organizing fundraisers and events or making sure that we have all paid our senior dues, our class advisors are always hard at work, for which we are forever grateful.

Halloween

Something Wicked This Way Comes

Every year, students at Chicopee Comprehensive High School have a chance to win some early Spirit Week points by dressing up in a variety of costumes that include everything from Miley Cyrus to a banana. Here's just some of what Comp's ever so creative student body came up with this year!

1. A large group of Chicopee Comp students crowd in the hallway to show off their costumes.
2. Jessica Stroup, Kayla Chagnon, Diego Delgado, Alivia Karcz, Kenneth Mendez, and Amaury Morales line up during English.
3. Michael Rovelli, dressed as the Devil, sits atop Damion Cano's shoulders, while Christopher Fondakowski dives into the frame.

2

Groovy senior David Figueroa channels his inner hippie in yearbook class. Keep spreading the peace and love, David!

Hot dogs, barbarians, ninjas, witches, and, yes, even students portraying Mr. Martin are all common sights to see in the halls on Halloween Day!

6

7

9

4. Let's hope that Savana Hennessey can help Zachary Gates find a brain as they portray Dorothy Gale and the Scarecrow from The Wizard of Oz.

5. A wide variety of costumes can be viewed throughout the halls of Chicopee Comp on Halloween Day.

6. Thomas Lacaprucia and Leonard Gianetti sport two of the best costumes on Halloween Day, Thomas parading as "God's gift to women" and Leonard as a beautiful, inflatable ballerina.

7. Ms. Fahey and Mercedes Santana are quite an odd Halloween pair: one a convict and the other Audrey Hepburn in her role as Holly Golightly in Breakfast at Tiffany's.

8. The popularity of Duck Dynasty has no bounds, and this year multiple Chicopee Comp students, including Kevin Dupuis, can be seen decked out in their best faux beards and camouflage.

9. Ouch! Senior Anna Plewa may have a bit of a headache today.

Military

America's True Superheroes

"Military service is not for everyone. It's for that 1% who believe in this country and are willing to give the ultimate sacrifice to defend its principles."-Sgt 1st Class Karl Momeau Iraq War. Going into the military isn't for everyone, but to these few individuals it is what they were born to do. They have heard the call to serve. Even though they won't all be going into the same branch, in the end their mission is the same... to protect and serve this great nation. These students are going to do something greater than themselves. As for our veterans they have already done their duty and now pass the torch to the new recruits. To serve in the military you must have loyalty, duty, honor, selfless service, respect, integrity, and courage. It also takes guts. These individuals don't need to wear capes to be superheroes; they wear dog tags. They are America's true superheroes!

10

11

Comp Colts know what it means to go above and beyond. These Colts will take that extra step to defend and protect our stars and stripes along with the nation it stands for.

10. Carrie Boyd flaunts her t-shirt in support of the branch she plans to enter.

11. Derrick Guerrero stands at attention in preparation for what is to come at Parris Island.

12. Destinee Theriault is going to be one of The Few and The Proud.

What We'll Miss

We'll Be Missing You, CCHS

Imagine ten years from now. What are the aspects of high school which you will miss the most? Well, the Class of 2014 has spoken. Eating lunch at Compaccinos, supporting the football team win or lose at the numerous Sword Games, competing against each grade during Spirit Week, beating the Class of 2013 in the Dance Off not just once, but twice, playing high school sports, and, of course, the teachers who made learning worthwhile will always be amongst the many missed memories of CCHS.

1. How could we not miss the memories of the the Sword Game the last four years? Running onto the field too early freshman year after the victory and winning again junior year will surely be memories to miss.
2. Ashley Maisonave, Ariel Alvarez, and the rest of Class of 2014 are truly going to miss getting dressed up for Color Day. Spirit Week is a huge part of all of our favorite high school memories!

2

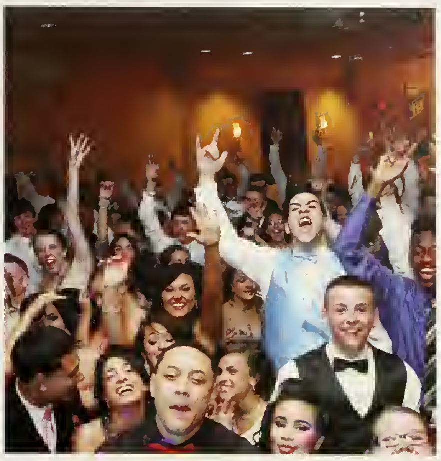
Marykate Sweeney, Corinne LaRochelle and Caitlin Trombley will all miss eating lunch at Compaccinos.

Megan Hall and Stephanie Ewing are going to miss Ms. Bineau's hilarious jokes the most!

Taylor Weaver, Jeffery Thibault, and Marykate Costello will miss their favorite teacher, Mr. Osborne.

After being known by their nicknames for the last few years, these students will definitely miss their familiar pseudonyms.

Chelan Rodriguez will miss playing on the girls varsity basketball team!



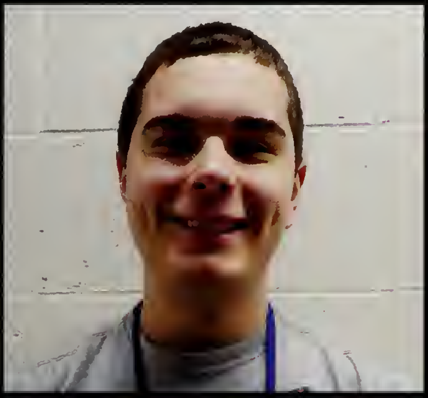
Junior prom was one to remember, and these students will miss dancing with their friends.

Tiana Lessard is going to miss devising creative ways to address he yearbook staff's relentless appeals for photos from the Class of 2014. "Well, you SAID baby pictures!"

Taylor Labonte will definitely miss her BFF Ms. Goudreault the most when she graduates!

Jessica Laplante is going to miss harrassing and making fun of Mr. Lamothe in his history classes.

Damian Heroux is going to miss lunch, especially the spicy chicken patties. He is also going to miss playing volleyball!



Adam Polverini says that he is going to miss the senior privileges, such as eating outside, which he has been taking advantage of during his last year at Comp. He is also going to miss his favorite gym game, dodgeball.

Tiara Weems is going to miss all of the teachers who inspired her throughout her high school career, especially Mr. Gelinas, Mr. Wozinak, and Mr. Ziemba.

Mellissa Lafleur will miss Spirit Week the most because of all of the excitement and competing against other grades. Mellissa loves how everyone comes together as the family which the Colts are!

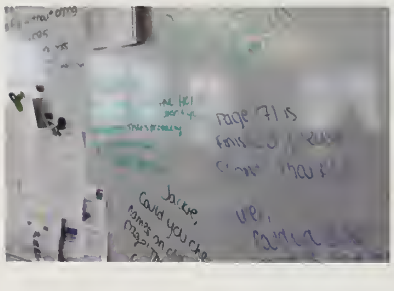
Behind the Scenes of Room 323

This very special and remarkable book is a masterpiece that we have been able to create thanks to the hard work and dedication of seventy-five students in two separate class periods: a record-breaking roster for Comp's publications class. This time capsule will be an amazing representation of just what goes on throughout every school year, and everything from sports and clubs to goofy candids and the Sword Game is memorialized in this truly one-of-a-kind book. Twenty years from now, you will be able to view what your school was like and all of the different varieties of people of whom it was comprised, the many individuals who came together to make it one, united community. You, a unique member of our incredibly diverse student body, represent our school, and it is this idea that inspired our yearbook theme for 2014, that, together, we make one. This same philosophy applies to our publications class, for the work of two groups composed of many various and dedicated students ultimately culminated in the fabrication of one yearbook, a task that we are very proud to say was completed in just seven short months. This year, the staff gave their time and effort to not only this book but also to the 2014 Memories yearbook as well as the school newspaper, The Comp Chronicle. Through the bickering between classes on the designs of the layouts, the constant everyday yearbook annoyances, the whiteboard turning into a message board, and the many late nights making sure that deadlines were made on time, our two classes proudly came together as one, unified team to form this final product, the fifty-first edition of Chicopee Comprehensive High School's Memini yearbook!



The whiteboard went from a standard tool to a communication center for the two yearbook classes.

The infamous camera drawer: "All right, who forgot to turn off number seven?"

Seriously, how hard can it be? Plug the slapchops in!

"Check the stalker binder."

"What vibes are you getting from this?"

"Where's Tyler???"

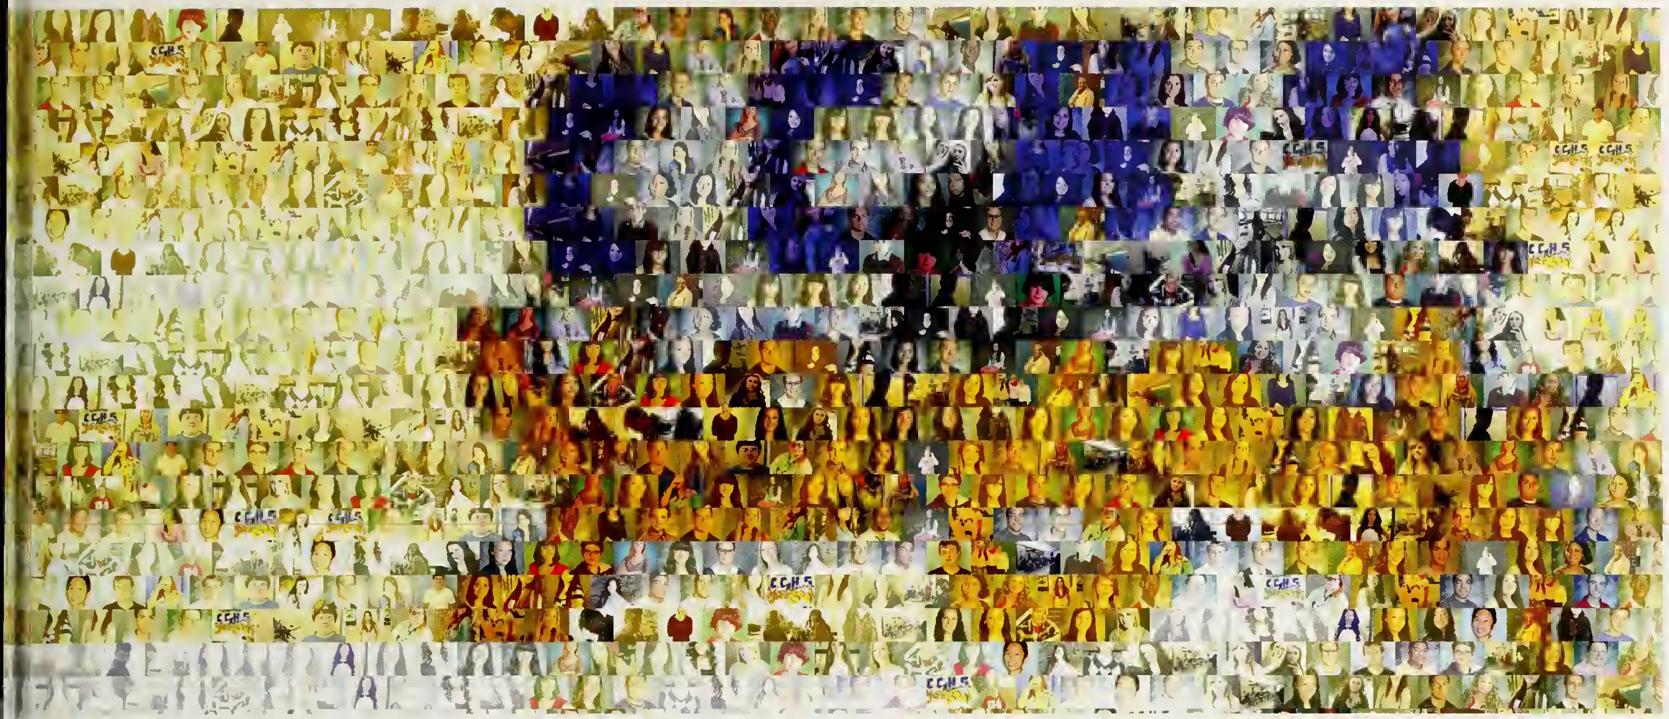
"Why are these laptops so slow?"

"KASSY'S! DON'T TOUCH"

"Who touched my spread...?"

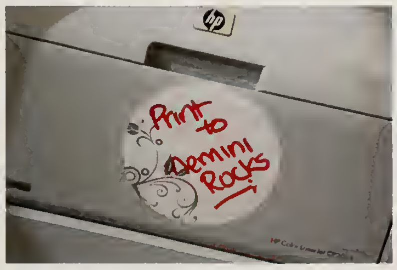
"I can't find my pictures!"

"I haven't even bought my yearbook yet."



This year, the fifty-first edition of Chicopee Comprehensive High School's Memini yearbook team was led by editors-in-chief Tyler Deauseault, Kasandra Dillon, and Heather Hayner, as well as advisors Mr. Brown and Ms. Freisberg. Due to a huge increase in staff, a second publications elective was added for the first time, prompting the appointment of three editors-in-chief. Nevertheless, there was still plenty of work to go around as the group adopted an additional project, The Comp Chronicle. Fortunately, everyone was able to join together and work seamlessly with each other, resulting in the yearbook you see today.

A loving reminder to help end the plague of captionless pictures: "Y U no Caption?"



Here we see where pages are SUPPOSED to print...but where do they actually go?

Everybody's favorite cabinet: old yearbooks! "Hey check out my mom's hair in 1981!"

"Don't forget to plug in!"

"RAWEEN! Y U NO LOG OFF?!"

"I'm so done!"

"Did you check the camera dumps?"

"Captions NOT Craptions"

"Did you check the whiteboard?"

"Who is this person?!"

"Somebody zip-tied my backpack to my desk!"

To our daughter and best friend...
Time has gone by so fast, and we still cannot believe you are now graduating from high school! We knew you would grow up to be an amazing young woman, yet you are more than we had ever hoped for. You blessed our lives with so much joy right from the start with your loving personality and beautiful smile. You have grown into an incredible, caring, funny, responsible, respectful, intelligent, and lovely young lady. You have within you the strength, the patience, and the passion needed to succeed in life. You are braver than you believe, stronger than you seem, and smarter than you will ever realize. Treasure your high school memories filled with friends, lessons learned, and unforgetable experiences.
We are so extremely proud of all you have accomplished and even more proud of the person you have become. It is truly a privilege to call you Daughter!

CONGRATULATIONS!

Carolyn, It seems like just yesterday you were so small and now you have grown into a beautiful, young woman. It has been a joy watching you grow up into the person you are today. We have enjoyed watching you play sports... soccer since you were 5 and basketball and softball during your high school years. We will always be here to support you. And, always remember how much you are loved and how very proud we are of you! We wish you good luck when you go to college. We know you will succeed as you have in high school. May the choices you make bring you happiness as you embark on your new journey. Listen to your heart, follow your dreams, and always be happy!

Color Day Blues... Yellows, Reds, and Greens

By Monique Rondeau

Spirit Week: the one week in the school year when the Chicopee Comp students and staff come to school dressed in outright ridiculous outfits and costumes to show pride in not only each individual class, but also the school as a whole. Most people would agree that the biggest, most competitive, and certainly the loudest day of spirit week is Color Day. This was the last color day for the class of 2014, who were all decked out in blue. Although usually on a Friday, due to Good Friday falling on the week before spring vacation, Spirit Week was shortened and Color Day took place on the Thursday before break. Color Day is also the day of the spirit rally, hence the source of the loudness.

Color Day was unofficially initiated by the senior car parade, which took place in the morning before school with the help of administration, and officially kicked off with the conclusion of the canned food drive, one of the many events in which the seniors took first place. Boxes upon boxes, crates upon crates, and bags upon bags were brought in by all classes to help contribute to a very worthy cause: Lorraine's Soup Kitchen. After the cans were all collected and counted with the help of a group of students, another group of seniors ornamented the cafeteria with blue streamers to celebrate their last color day at Chicopee Comp.

Dress-up day check-ins took place at lunch as well with the seniors topping off a week of first place check-ins which led them into the rally in first as well. Before the rally the seniors gathered in the career tech hallway and entered the gym together, displaying their unity in an organized fashion. The rally started off with the all-important dodge ball game and ended with the intense tug-of-war (congrats freshmen!). A few notable events include cheese ball face, the food relay, and pie roulette. All classes fought and played hard in the rally and although the points are seemingly what matters most to the students, Tyler Deauseault, the Student Council Treasurer, believes "when it comes down to it, the charitable donations and school spirit that comes out of spirit week is definitely more important than the points and rankings between classes."

The Art Show

By Savannah Procon

On April 1, Chicopee Comprehensive High School called upon its greatest and finest artists to put together an exquisite Art Show full of magnificent and beautiful works of art. The students who were able to display their works were chosen by the teachers who felt that they deserved to be in the show due to their talent and skill, hard work, or determination to create a great piece.

The lucky students chosen were able to not only display their great works of art but were given the opportunity to present them and speak about them to the guests that attended. Each student stays in their area awaiting students and guests to greet them and answering any questions or comments that are asked.

This fascinating event has been held in the halls of Chicopee Comp for about eleven years and students and facility will both confirm that it has gotten better and better each year. Mrs. Fahey, Mr. Meulemans are the art teachers who organize this exhibit every year. There is always has a great number of students that participate in it. Though all grades are allowed to participate, the senior class has the privilege to show off their work in their own sections of the exhibit rather than scattered along the walls like the remainder of the artists' work. The annual CCHS Art Show is always an impressive display of student talent.

Music is in the Air

By Stephanie Moriarty

The CCHS Chorus held its annual spring concert on May 22. This is the final concert of the year for the chorus, but it was also the absolute final concert for the thirteen seniors. Under the direction of Natalia Borowiec, spectators witnessed a variety of music that ranged from an African step song to selections from Bach's Mass in B Minor. Ms. Borowiec's favorite selection, Kyrie, comes from this Mass. She believes that this selection is a very prominent piece in the music world, and is glad that she could give her chorus the opportunity to perform such complex and powerful music. With this song, as well as another one from the Mass, the chorus certainly has had a challenging semester. Some of the more energetic and fun songs include Tshotsholoza, featuring Derick Guerrero, and a gospel song featuring three sopranos: Kiara Spells, Claire Montanez, and Aryanna Kidder. Tshotsholoza,an African step song that the chorus also danced to, translates into an old miners' song that has over time become a song of freedom and hard work. The final song of the evening, the seniors' graduation song, A Time to Say Goodbye, was performed in Italian and featured two senior soloists: Aryanna Kidder and Austin Piedra While this may be the last the performance of a fantastic year, Ms. Borowiec already has great plans and is looking forward to next year.

Not only does Ms.Borowiec ensure that her chorus sounds great, but look great too!

Unity Day– Did it Work?

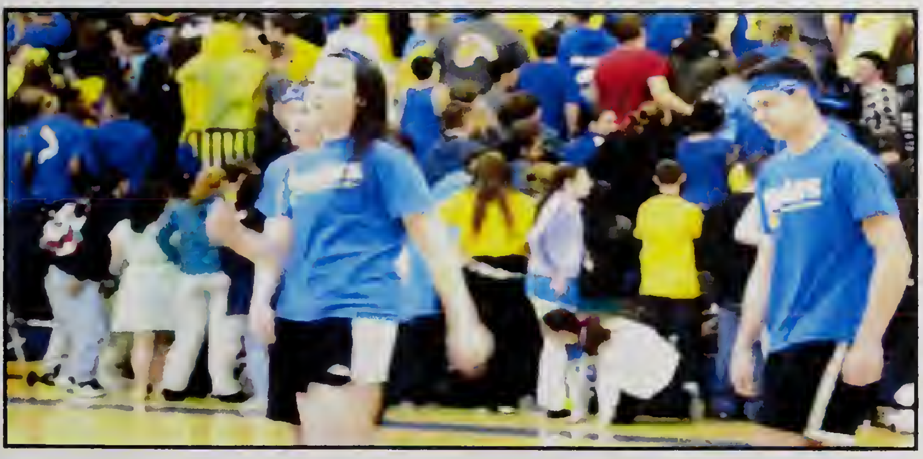
By Kasandra Dillon

This year student council decided to add an extra dress-up day the Friday before Spirit Week. This day was named "Unity Day" and students dressed in the school colors in order to receive spirit points for their class. This day was intended to give a great kick off to Spirit Week by unifying the classes to display school spirit before the rivalries have a chance to set in and the competitive madness emerges. However, this dress up day had a much different outcome.

On Unity Day, the Student Council scheduled the annual Class Dance Off. The Dance Off is a tradition that requires each class to produce a dance routine and present it to the school. The judges then score the dances on several categories: difficulty, synchronization, spirit, creativity, and crowd response. During the freshman and sophomore dances, the students were respectful spectators. However, when the juniors presented theirs, the junior-senior tension began to come out. The senior class, who had been standing during the first two routines, decided to sit during the junior dance to express their lack of enthusiasm. The rivalry became even more apparent during the senior class's performance. Toward the beginning of the dance, the junior class turned their backs to the senior dancers. Shortly after, the underclassmen began to follow along with their dance teams. The seniors felt the disrespect and increased the volume of their cheering to encourage their now embarrassed team to keep dancing. As the seniors got louder, the rest of the school also did, but instead of cheering they were booing and chanting of "Go Home Seniors". The seniors finished their dance and received third place while the juniors won first. As the students flooded out of the gym there was anger and frustration in the air. The senior class could not have felt any more isolated from the rest of the school as they felt during that particular event.

Many teachers were also upset about what took place. Ms. Goudreault was one of these teachers: "I thought it was horrible. I thought it was one of the worst examples of unsportsmanlike conduct I've seen." She also felt that "Student Council shouldn't have put a competition on Unity Day, because that just set this up to be worse than it was." Many teachers pointed out that the entire school turning their back on one class has never happened before.

Unity Day came to an end with an afternoon announcement from Principal Morrison . When he began to speak there was a feeling of shame. He told the school about his disappointment, and explained that we are one school and while friendly competition is acceptable it is more important that we stick together- because that is what Unity Day is about.



Underclassmen turn their backs during the seniors' performance at an emotionally-charged Dance Off.

Mr. Brown's public speaking class brought their A-game on Formal Day!

Dress it Up!

By Elliemarie Morales

On Wednesday, April 16, Chicopee Comp celebrated "Formal Day" for Spirit Week. Formal Day is a day for students to show off their classy side and show their confidence through their clothing and overall appearance at school. Many of the students showed school pride with their classy dresses and ties. Everyone looked fabulous while walking the Chicopee Comp hallways. There were many elegant dresses and professional suit and ties!

Foreign Language Department Supervisor, Ms. Parzych, stated: "I like to see what the boys and girls are wearing." She believes it makes the students feel good about themselves. Formal Day also falls on the same day as the Foreign Language Awards, where students receive awards for their dedication in their foreign language classes

Students were not at all hesitant to strike a pose and show off their best outfits in pictures. A great deal of student spirit came alive that day, and teacher spirit as well! The amount of participation was through the roof! It is great to see people participating with the days and really getting into the spirit. Teachers love seeing their students dress up and feel good about themselves. That's really what Formal Day is all about: feeling good and being confident, which is why it is such an important day in Spirit Week. Undoubtedly it will remain a tradition at CCHS for many more years to come!

By Monique Rondeau

With the conclusion of the 2014 Spirit Week and Color Day, the seniors escaped victorious with a well-fought battle in all events and great participation in dress-up days. Despite the bittersweet-ness of the Class of 2014 experiencing their last spirit rally, you could probably still catch a few seniors saying "So, when's graduation?" on their way out of the gym.

We all know that Spirit Week has its highs and its lows, its ups and downs, but ultimately, the seniors are the ones that will soon be walking out of this building for the last time. Making the best of what time we have left here while still feeling eager to go off to college and experience new things are expected from seniors. However, most of us, including myself, can probably attest that we didn't expect it to feel like this. Looking out into the gym and realizing that every other color in the room – green, red, and yellow – represents an entire year of our high school career is not only grounding, but also extremely terrifying. The four years that you attend Chicopee Comp will fly by faster than summer vacation feels, if you can imagine. If you're not a senior, you will probably experience this nostalgic yet accomplishing feeling during your senior spring. If you are a senior, I'm sure you can join me in saying that our senior color day was an abrupt realization that graduation is right around the corner, and college/working is something new, exciting, and petrifying to face just a short time from now.

On behalf of the senior class, I want to thank everyone who helped out, participated, and played a role in giving the class of 2014 a great Color Day and Spirit Rally to end our high school career. We are proud to be a part of the Comp Colts' family.

Principal Morrison knows how to display his school spirit!

If You Can Dodge a Wrench, You Can Dodge a Ball

By Tyler Deauseault

The first annual Staff Dodge Ball Tournament was an overwhelming success. As a replacement for the dying Mr. CCHS competition, the Dodge Ball tournament had the entire school laughing and cheering when their favorite staff member was pegged with a ball. Four teams made up of the most "athletic" staff members in the building battled it out for bragging rights that will carry over for the entire year. The most enthusiastic of the bunch, Principle Morrison, entertained the crowds with a clown wig and blue and gold face paint. Over $1500 was raised during this event; the proceeds were donated to the family of Pat Morris and Best Buddies. Mr. Dunphy, 2014 class advisor, said, "It was a great way for teachers and staff to come together as a team that maybe did not know each other before." He also said, "Seeing the students all together as one group was a great example of school spirit. The students had a positive attitude about the entire event, I even saw some teachers being told what a good job they did by students they did not previously know." Student Council advisors Mr. Jendrysik and Mr. Zdroykowski were extremely happy with the outcome of this new event. They believe that this will become an annual event that can be carried on as a spirit week tradition.

Deck the Halls with Holidays!

By Ashley Aviles

On the second day of Spirit Week, students had to dress up as any holiday or in holiday apparal in order to receive their Spirit Week points. Although not many participated in this event, those who did were very creative! You could see everything from Independence Day to New Year's Eve and everything in between. There were plenty of Christmas and Valentines Day costumes roaming the halls. Erika Viens and Sacha Roberts decided to dress as Black Friday. They explained the origin of their idea in an interview: "It was simple, original, and I love shopping," said Erika Veins about her costume choice.

It is important to participate in these days so the administration will continue to allow them. It would really be a shame for the incoming freshman to not experience their first spirit week at Comp. So even if a day seems a little difficult, give it a shot. It could be fun!

Picking the Perfect Elective

By Taylor Labonte

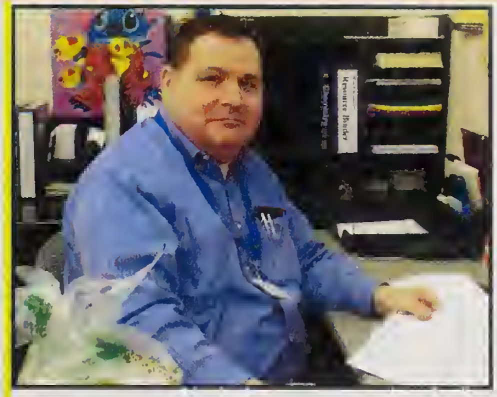
It's that time of year again! Scheduling can be very stressful and there are many great classes you can choose from. Although you need your core classes such as English and Math, you are given the choice of a variety of electives. Before you graduate, you must have taken a certain amount of art, gym and health class electives. It is imperative to get those out of the way before you begin with the fun stuff.

From experience, I would highly recommend two of Ms. Freisberg's classes: Publications and Analyzing Film as Text. In Publications, you create an authentic yearbook, and it is extremely satisfying to see what your hard work can accomplish. In Analyzing Film as Text, you watch one to two movies a week and write journals and take short quizzes on movies such as: The Green Mile, Jaws, The Help, Diehard, and even Psycho.

Another fun (and delicious) elective is Intro to Nutrition and Foods. In this class, you learn about foods, nutrition, and even are taught to become a better chef! Not to mention, you will be making some very delicious plates!

Raween M. considers his Public Speaking class one of the best he's ever had. "It really helped me with my presentation skills. I'm going to be all set for my senior project presentation because of Mr. Brown's great elective!"

Try to get a head start! Visit your guidance counselor for further information. You can even approach some teachers who teach electives, who will happily inform you on the ones they teach. There are plenty of great options, and there are new ones added each year. Get ahead of the game to get the classes you want for the perfect schedule!



Don't let this face fool you! Mr. Sweeney is full of laughter and smiles!

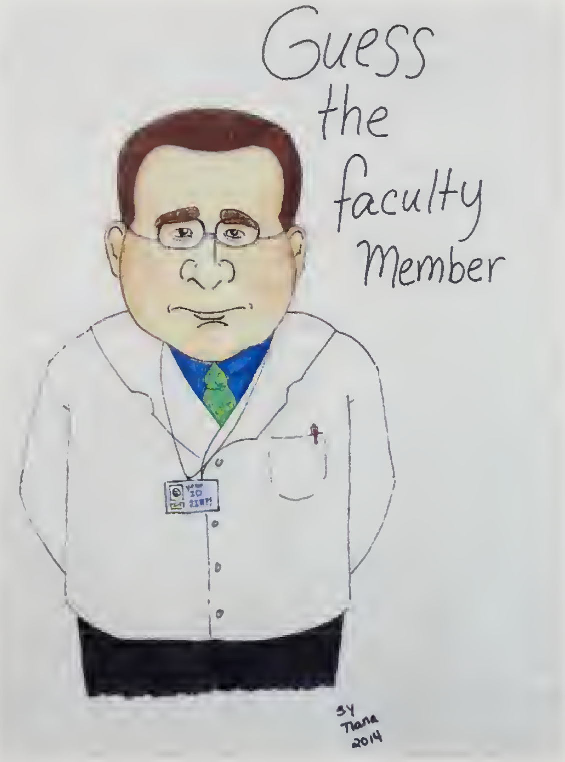
Mr. Sweeney: AP Chemistry Edition

By Shayla Samalot

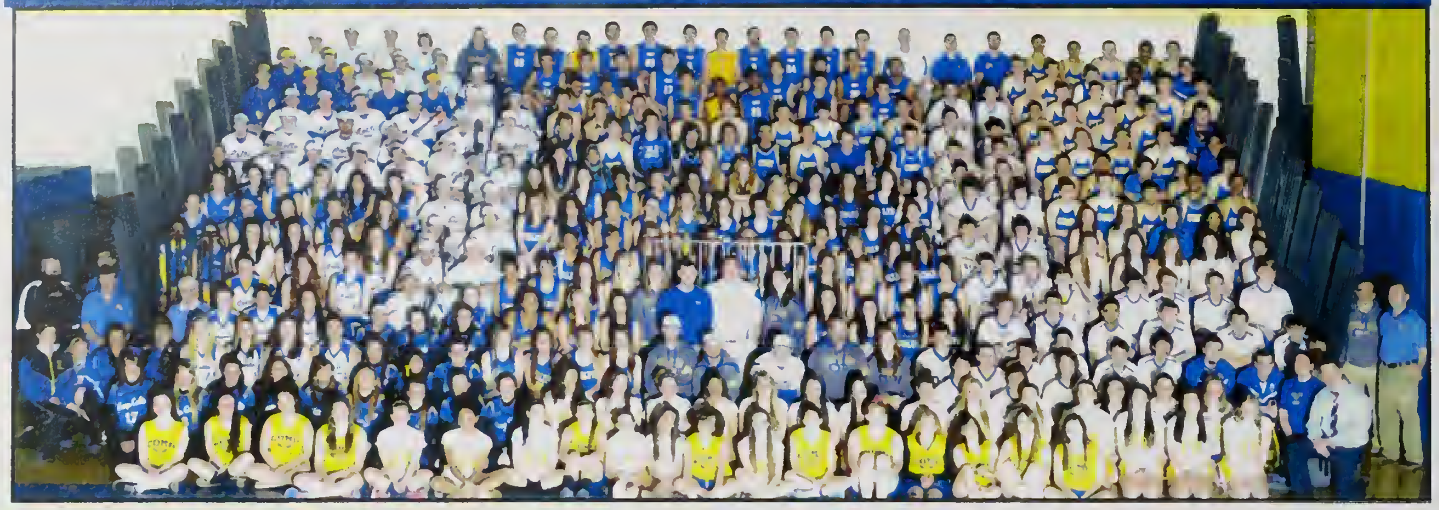
As Chicopee Comp students, when you hear the name Mr. Sweeney, you probably think one of two things: "He's so mean!" or "He's one of the best teachers in the whole school!" If the first thought is the one in your mind, it is likely that you've never actually had him as a teacher. Coming from an AP Chemistry student, I can personally attest for the second choice.

The first day of AP Chemistry was rough, to say the least. Upon entering class we were given a syllabus, a date for our AP exam, and lastly a huge test on topics we were supposed to remember from last year. I didn't even bring my calculator with me that day and ended up getting only twelve correct out of the entire maybe ten page test. I went home in tears and seriously contemplated dropping the class. However, after giving it some thought, I decided to stick it out. Let me tell you, I am so glad I did. Mr. Sweeney has been one of the best teachers I've had in this building. While he comes across as intimidating, he is actually one of the nicest people you'll ever meet. One night I was doing Chemistry homework at night and had a question. I wrote Mr. Sweeney an e-mail at around 10:00, expecting to get an answer by morning. Sure enough, he responded back to me by 10:30 answering my question. His dedication and love for his job is certainly what makes him stand out to every student he has. Though he says that he hates all eight of us, the fact that he wore a Walt Disney World shirt the day I left for my week long Disney trip, he refers to Julia Lavigne as "Jules" and laughs/smiles whenever Alex Haessaert calls him "Dad" proves that he cares about each and every one of us.

He'll never admit to being an amazing teacher and will probably yell at me once he reads this for exposing his true soft side, but don't let him fool you or intimidate you. If you have an opportunity to take a class with him, do it. It may be hard at times and you may leave the first day of school in tears, but all the hard work will be worth it. The good times and the laughs you share with him will definitely make up for it, I promise!



There can only be one.



Just ChilLAXing

By Savana Hennessey

This season has built a great foundation for the girls lacrosse team. The team is currently made up of both Chicopee Comp and Chicopee High students. Together they have put talent and effort into this sport. Last year was the first year that any of the girls had ever played the sport, yet they completed the season with three wins at the varsity level. This season they started off with a loss, but the game was a real nail bitter. In the first half they were losing 4 to 10, and then for the second half they got their heads in the game and ended with a score of 12 to 14. Even though they lost, it was still a great accomplishment for the second year team. The girls also made it to playoffs, but lost in their first game against Nipmuc High with a score 10-17. The Lady Colts were able to finish their second season with eight wins and eight loses. With all of the girls from Chicopee High the team gained so many athletic players who are a great asset. Each school will have its own separate team next season. Splitting these girls into two teams will break apart a great group of athletes. Both the Pacers and the Colts will have a great variety of athleticism for their teams. However, the current team will lose four remarkable seniors: Kellie Charette, Melissa Lafleur, Savana Hennessey, and Madison Prince. These seniors will miss the team greatly, but are just happy that they were able to be part of the first season of girls high school lacrosse's in the City of Chicopee.

Finish Line

Jessikha Silva-Ribeiro thrusts herself high into the air

Comp's girls track team is known for their outstanding talent. The team is very close and the members consider one other family; they cheer each other on at meets and are always supportive. The sport consists of many different events such as distance, throwing, javelin, shot, discus, high jump, long jump, triple jump, pole vault, two mile, one mile, hundred meter dash, 200 meter dash, high hurdles, small hurtles,400, 800, 4x4, and 4x1 . The coaches of the team are Coach Laurin, Coach Forette, Coach Lindsay and Coach Boyle. The captains of the team are Kylie Klinkowski, Anna Plewa, Carly Champagne, Ally Russ, and Sam Russ. Kylie Klinkowski has been doing track for all four years of high school. One of the reasons she started doing track was her admiration for her sister. In addition, she just loves running. During events she participates in the 100 meter relay, 200 meter dash, long jump and triple jump. Sam Russ has been a part of the team for four years as well. Sam went into track to stay in shape and the exercise. She loves being a part of the track team because of how close she and her teammates have become. Ally Russ, another four year member and captain, joined track to stay in shape as well but was really interested in track because it's not as competitive as other sports. She competes in mid distance and javelin, and qualified for Western Mass in the 4x8 meter. The girls are very sad to leave the team this year, but they are happy they were able to create so many wonderful memories.

Au Revoir, Monsieur!

By Jaclyn Hortie

Over 40 years ago, on a cool September day, there was a chipper young man who stepped through the front doors here at CCHS. Little did anybody know that that young man would become one of the most influential and memorable faculty members at the school. That young man was Mr. George Bellefeuille. Mr. Bellefeuille has taught a range of subjects throughout his career at Comp including English, Spanish, World Geography, and most primarily, French. It is with regret that we announce his retirement after this 2013-2014 school year. Mr. Bellefeuille has been a wonderful role model to all of his students over the years. From referring to himself as the "Epitome of Swag," to hounding students in the halls for IDs, to the daily struggle with his computer, there was never a dull moment in his classroom. "I could never forget Mr. Bellefeuille," said one senior. "He was the only teacher that I've had for all four years of my high school career and he's taught me so much." With his record breaking number of confiscated cell phones and dress code write-ups, Mr. Bellefeuille was always one to enforce the rules. He has participated in the many new projects the school has taken on such as No Student Left Behind and The Common Core State Standards Initiative. Regrettably, due to unfortunate circumstances, Mr. Bellefeuille had to take a leave of absence beginning in February of 2014. He is truly a remarkable and irreplaceable teacher that will be greatly missed throughout the building.

Mr. Bellefeuille will be greatly missed by his students at Chicopee Comp!

Cisco Legend Due for Retirement

By Julie Gilkison

For 31 wonderful years, Edward Ziemba has been a proud and enthusiastic member of Chicopee Comp's faculty. Throughout his time here he has dealt with an assortment of growing and maturing teenagers as a CISCO teacher. Ziemba has spent his time reminiscing about the small details he will miss after he retires. "Every year I always look forward to face the challenges of meeting new students and watching them mature over the years." Out of the many classes that Ziemba has taught over the years, he claims that the class of 2014 is one of the very best. Despite many hectic days in the ever-changing field of IT, there have never been any bad days. When asked what he was planning on doing after he retires, he responded "Travel, definitely. I have visited 43 out of the 50 states so I would like to go see the ones that I have missed." He plans to finish restoring his 115 year old house as well as spending summers at the Cape. Also, "I have another grandchild on the way and I would really like to spend more quality time with my family." Since 2010, Ziemba has said that he was going to retire. Now that he has decided that this is his very last year at Comp, we cannot help but realize how deeply he will be missed. Ziemba is a father figure to all students who take CISCO and will always be a teacher that we all love and will remember. As we all continue our lives either in school, the military, or working we will always remember Ziemba's main phrase of inspiration, "Figure it out!"

CISCO won't be the same without Mr. Ziemba's bright smile!

Forever a Comp Colt

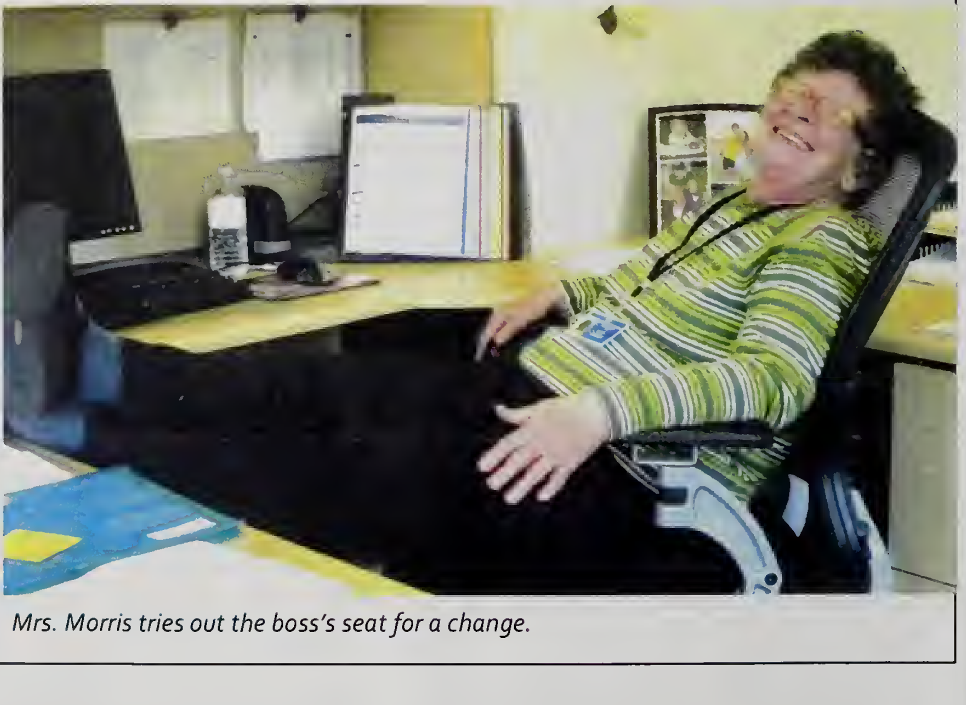
By Katelyn Herzig and Kasandra Dillon

In November of 1983, a sweet woman began her thirty one year career at Chicopee Comprehensive High School. Mrs. Morris and unfortunately had to put her career to a halt this spring due to illness. Sadly, she passed away on May 23, 2014.

Mrs. Morris is already missed here at Comp. There are so many special memories of her that will live on. For example, Mrs. Fennessey's most memorable Mrs. Morris moment was when the morning song wasn't working, so Mrs. Morris went on the intercom and started singing "I'm in Love with the Man in the Moon." Ms. Quesnel in the guidance office is going to miss hearing Mrs. Morris's "Ding, ding, ding" over the intercom, and also added that "Mrs. Morris was very straightforward and spoke her mind. She always told it 'like it is.' She was always willing to lend a hand when you needed help".

Several staff members were asked to describe Mrs. Morris in one word. They said that she was sweet, comical, dedicated, and funny. Science teacher Mrs. Hanna said that Mrs. Morris showed a sense of consistency in the building because Mrs. Morris worked here since Mrs. Hanna was in high school.

Mrs. Morris's job was not only to serve as a substitute period bell, she was also in charge of payroll, the mail, substitute teachers, and just about anything else under the sun that had to get done. She was a very strong, hard-working, and motivated person. It is no doubt that Mrs. Morris considered Chicopee Comp her home away from home; she just simply loved coming to work and interacting. It is truly a great loss for our high school, but Mrs. Morris's memory will live on forever.



Mrs. Morris tries out the boss's seat for a change.

Senior Memories

- Christian's car catching on fire in the parking lot the day before Christmas break
- Ms. Goudreault wrapping Mr. Paquette's classroom in wrapping paper for April Fool's Day
- When Alex serenaded Mr. Sweeney with "All of Me" by John Legend
- When Mr. Bellefeuille referred to himself as the "Epitome of Swag"
- When Mr. Martin was teaching MLA format and decided to jog around the room and then proceeded to climb up on his wheel cart to get his point across.
- When Principal Morrison kissed the squid during the spirit rally for the Relay for Life fundraiser.
- When Ms. Breen broke it down during the middle of class!
- When Chey referred to Mr. Morrison as Derek.
- When Mr. Martin read Taylor's prom proposal to Lebron James out loud.
- Sitting in Mr. Kidd's class listening to the class next door have a class sing along to the Wonder Pets.
- Mr. Schuerfeld talking with his butt
- Being in Guys and Dolls
- Winning every event during the spirit rally but cheese ball face... who needs cheese balls on their face anyways?
- Singing the National Anthem in the gym with the entire school during the spirit rally after the music cut out
- Being Western Mass Champs my freshman year for soccer
- 2013 Girls Volleyball team being the first ever to make it to Western Mass
- Winning Spirit Week with positive in Penny Wars and over 2000 cents, but mostly proving what we can do when we all come together
- Storming the field too early at the Sword Game freshman year because we thought the game was over, and we knew we had already won.
- Winning the Burger Cup in the wrestling meet
- Ms. Morris saying "Ding, ding, ding"
- Beating Chicopee High in soccer and winning the Rovers Cup
- Mr. Sowa's triumphant return
- Founding the HOPE club
- Struggling in Mr. Couture's class; he made me a stronger person!
- Dollar with poop smeared on it in the middle of the CTE hall
- Well I can tell you it was definitively not procrastinating with my senior project. Seriously, don't do it.
- Dunking on Mr. Martin and Mr. Rosario
- Every memory I've ever had with Drama Club
- Mickey dissing the freshmen during frolics
- Making the lip dub

Favorite Lunches of the Class of 2014

To all my underclassmen friends i leave you these words of advice: "Always do your homework, it makes a HUGE difference." To the juniors of culinary I leave you Compaccinos. Take good care of it. To Carlos, I would like to thank you for making this a great year and I'm leaving you with the hopes of you having a great rest of junior year and an amazing senior year along with Giovanna, Erin, and Sam. Hope you all enjoy the rest of your high school experiences I'll miss you <3

Alexandra Russ

I would like to thank Mrs. O, Mr. Martin, Mr. Sweeney, and Mrs. S for making my high school career memorable. I will miss them so much when I graduate. I will miss my soccer team and can not wait to see Natalie Galindo play her senior year. Most of all I will miss Bri Mach next year because she is my best friend.

Alisha Hochrein

These four years of high school flew by, but I'm so glad it's done. I'm excited to move along and continue onto college. I would like to say thank you to all my teachers that worked with me and helped me get through these four years, and also for helping me do good in every class. I'm going to miss all the teachers I've had these past years. Thank you for all the support you've given me. To Tyler Garcia: I leave you my intelligence and ability to pass every class. Enjoy your junior and senior year. Definitely try your hardest your junior year! Also, keep up the good track seasons! Stay sassy you pain in the butt!!

Amanda Robare

I really enjoyed my time here at CCHS. High school here has taught me to be myself and to always work hard because there is always someone out there who will understand you and work just as hard as you do. Hard work pays off. I would like to thank my teachers for always pushing me to do better and be proud of my work. I would like to thank my coaches for making me a better athlete and always pushing me past my limits. My years with you have taught me how to win in the worst situations and lose is the best. I have nothing to leave behind because everything I have experienced in CCHS is worth taking with me.

Ashley Sanocki

Always remember you are braver than you believe, stronger than you seem & smarter than you think. Thank you to Ms.O, Mrs.Lafleur, my best friend Brittany Donze and my amazing boyfriend Tommy Lacaprucia. The four of you have truly given me the strength and guidance to not let the hard times get the best of me. I could of not of gotten through high school without you guys. I'm so thankful for all the moments we've shared. The times that we've had, I'll keep like a photograph and hold you in my heart forever. I'll always remember you.

Brianna Laflash

A lot changes in four years; never take a single moment for granted. I leave Mrs. Pavoni my best sassy train, a powerful "NO!", and MY door. I'll never forget you helped me find confidence. As for Mrs. Lafleur, you were wrong. The Career Center didn't become home; you did. You helped me love a simple joke. Words can't express how much I'll miss you. To my wonderful friends, our laughter and idiosyncrasies kept me alive. Don't stop believing, KT; we're going downtown! Graduating with you is an honor, my fellow classmates. You taught me that loss is painful, yet unifying. And thank you, CCHS. These brick walls and cluttered halls will always be with me, eternally engraved in the warmest corners of my heart.

Brianne Boisselle

Comp has brought me some of my best memories. I leave Comp softball knowing Emily Dorion, Alicia Lacosse, and Alyssa Johnson will help build a strong new team next year. I leave my spot in Mr. Martin's room where I hide from the world to my littler brother, Tyler Boisselle. Use it wisely. Lastly, I leave my weekly rage management group to Alicia.

Brittany Donze

Thank you to all my teachers and friends who helped me out these past 4 years. To my freshmen friends-Derek, Allison, Trevor, Corbin and Billy I leave you guys this school that will be home for the next 3 years, so don't waste them. To my sophomores- Alicia, Liz, Kurtis, and Jacob I leave you guys the next two years to do something no class has done before. To my juniors- Orrie, Alex, Aaliyah, and Nick I leave you this school, it's yours now so don't ruin it. To my softball team, I leave you guys the bench. It's my pride and joy. Finally to my fellow classmates, I GIVE you the future; It's ours to take, make it all worth it, and have no regrets.

Caitlin O'Grady

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Ms.Olszewski for always being there for me no matter what, and listening to my crazy stories. I'm going to miss hearing all of your stories about Tommy as well, he will grow into such a handsome little man. I'm going to pray that you never have another class like my 6th period Freshman year again. Thank you again for putting up with me for 3 years. ;-) Love you O! xo

Carolyn Roberts

I'm going to miss Jocy, Alyssa J and Kaylee (my little giraffes), Alyssa S, and Kathy. My favorite underclassmen, enjoy the rest of your high school years, it goes by fast! I love you guys :) Carenzjocee is life.

Christopher Paulin

Good luck to everyone.

Colin Galindo
I leave to my cousin Natalie Galindo my reputation.

Courtney Hastings
These past four years here at CCHS have changed me. This school, faculty, and student body have become my family. This school has become my home. Although I am leaving CCHS the memories I have made here I will hold forever. To my old cheerleading team, I hope life takes you far and you always hold the memories we made. To my new found friends I don't believe I could have survived my senior year without you. To Mrs. Pavoni after taking Bodyworks all the words, videos and things you have taught me has changed my life forever. To Mrs. Lafleur I will truly miss you; you have been there for me whenever I needed a good laugh. For these reasons I thank you both.

Drew Curto
To Sean Buxton I leave my Captain America sweatshirt because his nickname is Bucky, this will make sense after Captain America 3. To Mikey I leave my comic books, he never returned half of them anyways, so he might as well keep the rest.To ZachTDubs, I leave this endorsement for your instagram. To the rest of the school, I leave my pants that fell off two years ago, I hope they stay with you better than they did to me.

Edson Souza
To Anthony Stepno: I leave you my number 7 jersey with the captain's band that Dunphy never gave us. You must now continue the tradition and find a freshmen to name your kitty, better make me proud. Justin Potvin: I leave you in charge of having the best hair on the field, and leading the team back to playoffs. Kelsey Lacoste: I leave you with my unconditional love, forever and always. Alyssa Landry: I leave you in charge of finding a prom date and ditching them the week before.

Erich Leaper
What I am going to miss most is picking on the leprechaun, Mr. Dwyer. I would like to thank Mrs. Lyon for putting up with us all year, even if she wanted to strangle us. I would like to leave my role on the soccer and baseball teams to Deven Tracy. I would also like to leave the role of most awesome person on Reed St. to Rachel Beaulieau. Thank you for all the memories CCHS!

Jaclyn Hortie
To my boys, I leave the stage. You know who you are.

Jenise Santiago
To my really good friend Amanda Santana. I will miss you so much, I will always remember all of our memories together meeting you was the best! Good luck next year, you're senior year is going to fly, before you now it you're going to be graduating so make it the best year ever. Have fun, but make sure you stay focused.

Jessica Laplante
I would like to say thank you to my swim team and my coaches for an amazing 4 years, swimming was by far my favorite experience throughout high school. To Tiffany Vincellette, I leave you the team, and my heart. You are not only my favorite sophomore, but you are like a sister tome, and I love you so much. Thank you to all my teachers who put up with me throughout my four years of high school, really, thank you. Thank you to Ms. Cushing for being the best swim coach, and the best swimming mom I could ever ask for.

Jocelyn Mendez
?????????????????? #noragrets

Julie Gilkison
I would like to thank my amazing and supportive teachers, who over the last four years have taught me a lot of valuable information and been there to help me through personal problems. I always want to wish my little sister, Jessilee Baldwin, a good luck in school and to have as much fun as possible. High school flies right on by and before you blink you will be writing one of these messages too and wearing your gorgeous cap and gown. Chicopee Comp is a great school and being apart of it makes everything so much more amazing.

Kaitlin Abbott
To the wonderful sophomore culinary class, I have such faith in you guys that you will take care of Compaccinos when you get to your senior year. Each one of you is just spectacular in your own way. I also give you the privilege to bug Mr.C once I'm gone.

Kaitlyn Herzig
I would just like to thank everyone that made my four years at Chicopee Comp worthwhile. To the juniors, I leave my locker that I do not use. The location is questionable. I also leave my parking spot for the car that I do not have. To the sophomores, for the love of us all, STOP TWERKING. You will all have your time to shine during senior year. Just remember, do not slack! The four years that you are here will end in the blink of an eye. People will change and you will lose old friends and gain new ones. Just do not forget the ones that have stuck by your side since the beginning. Best of luck to all of the classes in their remaining years at CCHS. To the class of 2014, sayonara! It was nice knowing ya!

Kalina Gonzalez
Good luck to all you underclassman cuz you still have a LONG way to go! Never give up and always strive for the best. Remember life does not come to you you have to go to it! To Jilly, thanks for believing in me when no one else did. You helped me get threw everyday with my head up tall and keep rocking the outfield and my number! :) Tim V. good luck surviving without me lol and try not to get into to much trouble!! Geri you will always be my best friend till the end of time <3 and lastly David, no matter what happens in the future, remember

I'll always love you ;* and thank you for always being there for me! You always know what to say to change my mood. Gook luck surviving!!! TRUST ME! You'll need it! <3333 I had fun but thank god I am done!!!

Karolina Chmielewski

Graduation means time to move on and leave things behind. I leave behind all my spirit week and school spirit attire to my brother, Szymon Chmielewski. Enjoy the rest of your high school years and make great memories!

Kassy Dillon

First I will leave a piece of advice to the incoming freshman: High school goes by faster then you think, so don't blink. Take advantage of every club and challenging class you can, it will really prepare you for college. I leave this newspaper in the hands of the overachieving juniors who also have a passion for publications class. But most importantly I leave my yearbook mommy Ms.Freisberg to the class of 2015. She genuinely cares about her students, and tries hard to work with them, but don't bug her or ask as much as I do from her. I'm special. She will probably hate you. A big shout out to Mr. Tenekjian and Mr. Lamothe for putting up with my constant whining, complaining, and arguing each and every day. One last shout out to Ms. Cushing for being so amazing and running Relay for Life each year, no matter how stressful it is.

Kathryn Avery

Life can change for better or worse in four years. Remember to always take a second and look around because in the blink of an eye it's all over.

To my Reading Skills class, make sure to do all your work. Especially Eli, I give you my spot as being the one the other kids look up to. Do all of the homework. Yes it may be a boring class but just think it's helping you. Trust me. I will miss all of you.

To my friends, thank you for showing me how to have fun and not be such a "mom". Somehow our driving adventures always turned into something even crazier. Lady Hummel, Don't Stop Believin' we can always go downtown.

Kellie Charette

I, Kellie Charette, leave Kathy, Jocy, and Erin as the head of the lax D squad to mess stuff up next year. Keep it classy, and I expect a win against Cathedral! Along with this I leave you guys the responsibility of bothering coach as often as possible. To my wonderful cousin Nick Picard, you better keep your grades up and stick with swimming. If I find out you are slipping I will come back here just to yell at you. But I know you'll be fine! Good luck with the rest of high school guys and make sure you enjoy it!

Kishantia Joseph

I want to leave one thing, a mindset. My mindset was never to quit. High school, like the rest of life, will be a rollercoaster of emotions. You will have classes you love and classes that make you feel sick when you enter them. Whatever the feeling, don't quit. Quitting is the easy way out; it's the way cowards deal with things. Learn all you can in high school. Learn how to be a good person. Learn how to advance your own life and get ready for college. In sports, classes, or in your very own beliefs, never quit. Now for some of my teachers, I would like to leave a little part of me. Not sure of what but maybe some of my laughter in a hope of it will make them laugh. To a very special teacher of mine, Ms. Roberts, I would like to leave her all my funny comments that made her laugh and her day special. :) and to Mr. Mercer who always put a smile on our faces. Period 7 self defense will always be known as Mercer girls :)

Kristen Hubert

To the Girls Varsity Tennis Team: Best wishes for an undefeated season next year! To the underclassmen I leave the best math teacher you'll ever have, Mr Lemelin! To the incoming and current Culinary students, I leave you the most fun that you'll ever have cooking! To the Culinary teachers, I leave my thanks for always helping out, no matter what the situation. To Mr Lemelin: Always offer your advice, I know it helped me through a lot! To my cousin Ella Dion: You can have my parking spot! Enjoy your time in high school, it goes by fast! I leave the legacy of being the Chicopee Colleen to another Chicopee Comp student, continue the tradition! To all students, never forget, anything is possible. Reach for the stars!

Mackenzie LaRochelle

I'm going to miss Jocy, Kaylee, Alyssa and Dest. Jocy, let's get ready to rumble. Kaylee, Carol and I will come visit you at the zoo; stay pretty giraffe. Alyssa, have patience and confidence. Dest, I leave you my right hand to dribble with. Mikaela, stay sassy. Carenzjocee for life.

Marykate Sweeney

First of all my little Kacey better kill it in volleyball next year! I know it's going to be a lot different next year, but just remember to keep your head up and enjoy it, because soon it's going to be all over. And to my daughter Kathy, make me proud in basketball. These next three years are your years, so please finish what we couldn't last year! And finally to my uncle, Mr.Sweeney, thank you for everything you've done for me these last four years. Sometimes I take you for granted, but I really couldn't have done this without you.

Megan Hall

To all underclassmen: stay on track of your grades and DO NOT procrastinate, especially your senior project because that is what will determine if you graduate or not. The college process may be a pain in the butt, but when its all over it'll all be worth it, just stay on track and take it seriously. When it comes to the people in your life, you will meet new people and lose old friends. Just don't lose track of what's most important to you and don't change to satisfy anyone but yourself.

To Orrie Baray- Forget: I will miss you so much, you are one of my best friends, I wish you the best of luck in Arizona. <3

To Danielle Beaudreault: I'll miss you, I'm so glad we got as close as we have so soon. Good luck next year and don't be a dingus. <3

Class of 2014: It's been an amazing ride, thanks for all the memories. We finally made it, all the countdowns are over!

Mickenzie Prout

I couldn't have asked for a better high school career than the one I received here at Comp. There are too many people I wish I wasn't leaving behind, but the next step in life is forcing me to. I am going to greatly miss the incredible teachers I've had and the incredible friends I've shared them with. I know this won't be goodbye to everyone, as it shouldn't be, but thank you all so much for everything. No matter what kind of success I find myself in after college, I know I will never forget my time here just walking through these hallways.

Monique Rondeau

Natalie Galindo - Nat, I'm leaving you being the only girl on Comp Hockey (hopefully!) Enjoy your senior year and continue to show everyone that hockey isn't only a boys' sport.

Rachel Beaulieu - I'm leaving you my music taste because our great minds think alike. I'm also leaving you the Student Council because you're capable of more than you give yourself credit for. You're definitely one of the most caring and thoughtful people I know, although maybe not the best driver :-)

Comp Hockey - I'm leaving you with the captains and high expectations for next year. You're all like brothers to me and have been beyond supportive. I hope you all continue to support each other next season, and to the captains, I expect you guys to carry the team into playoffs once again. Good luck boys!

Olivia Panlilio

I would like to thank all the teachers I have had over the four years for helping me get this far and believing in me. I will miss all the friends and teachers I am leaving behind.

Taylor Hoffman

Thank you to all the awesome teachers I've had in the past four years. I appreciate all of you! And to Kyle, I would say that I'll miss you, but in reality I'm still going to see you every day after I leave. Love you!

Sarah McMahon

I would like to say a special thanks to Mrs. Hayes, Mrs. Kemp and Mrs. Haefner for always being there whenever I needed them to talk to; these three women are wonderful examples of the woman I want to one day become. I wish all of my friends luck in their lives and future careers goals. Peter Taliceo, I leave you all the cheese pizza your heart could ever imagine and all the hope in the world that you will soon discover how much you could truly do if you set your mind to it. Thank you everyone for making these past four years the years I will forever look back on.

Shayla Samalot

As I leave a building I was once terrified to enter, I am filled with both extreme excitement and tremendous fear. Underclassmen, I promise you it goes by so much faster than you think. Don't try to get out of here so fast. Enjoy it. The real world is a scary place and believe it or not, your teachers are doing their best to prepare you for it. Be nice to them, do what you are told and don't give them a hard time. Everything they do is for you. Appreciate them. Once you're in this spot yourself, you will fully understand their reasoning for pushing you so hard. I know I do. And I can't thank them enough.

Sofia Nardi

I leave all of the dedicated and talented teachers at Comp to the next senior class. Take advantage of their wisdom and knowledge! Never settle for a B when you can have an A.

Stephanie Ewing

I would like to get a chance to thank not only my teachers but my fellow classmates for teaching me so much over the last four years. some highly important things I have learned is chicken patty always rules, pugs are and will always be cute, and to rock your red hair (if you have red hair). Good luck to my favorite athlete of all time; I love ya little bro.

Samantha Carrier

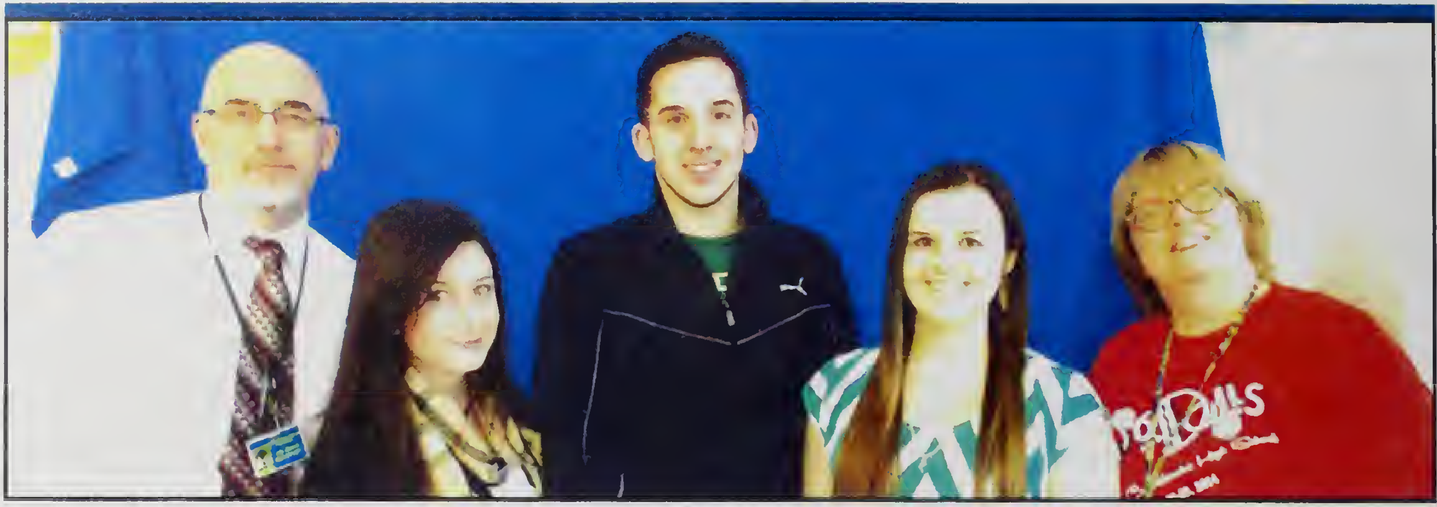
To Bradway junior, I leave a spot on the track team for coach to pick on you. Remember you can do anything you put your mind to!

Taylor Labonte

To Mason Labonte, I give you my awesomeness in hopes that you don't miss our morning car rides to school. You are the last Labonte at Comp, so try to make me look good, k? To Potty and Martone, I give you my deuces and pray that you chuck them up to all that you see. To Naween, I give you your brother, Raween Mendis, and hope you lock him away and please never let him out. I would also like to thank the best/worst teacher, Mr. Ryan Martin, for giving me a great junior year because of his sense of humor. I may say I hate you but.. yeah I hate you. ???

Victoria Roy

Thank you to Mrs. Bineau and Mrs. Hanna for always letting me talk to them. You guys were my two favorite teachers!



Mr. Brown, Kasandra Dillon, Tyler Deauseault, Heather Hayner, and Ms.Freisberg: The Memini/Comp Chronicle editors-in-chief and advisers, 2014.

Editor's Farewell

By Kasandra D.

I would first like to start by saying that this issue of the Chicopee Comprehensive Comp Chronicle is dedicated to two very special and missed individuals: Kevin Gomez, and Zachary Ortiz. Losing these two classmates during our freshman year was rough on the Class of 2014, but really made us stick together. This one is for you boys.

I have been a part of the Publications class here at Chicopee Comp for four years. Yearbook staff is typically full of seniors, so when I entered the class freshman year I was quite intimidated. I quickly realized how great the environment was, and soon it became my breath of fresh air during a busy school day. In this class I was able to gain knowledge of many different computer programs, I was always up to date about all of the different school events taking place, and I was able to help four classes build their yearbook. Many people don't realize how much work goes into a yearbook. Chances are, most of you will keep Memini 2014 and this Comp Chronicle for the rest of your lives. It's a big deal, and needs to be created carefully but in a timely manner. Your yearbook is one of the most tangible memories from your high school days. Although most of you will be going off to college, the military, or the work force, you'll be glad one day twenty years from now when you are able to browse through a book that has the power to instantly flood your mind with memories. All of that was made possible due to the hard work of Ms. Freisberg and the Publications Classes.

This year I was given the responsibility of taking over the Comp Chronicle. When I was first told of this I was not quite overjoyed. As I began to accept the responsibility it became my maturing child. It has certainly evolved since the first issue, and has bloomed into its most important issue; this Senior Edition.

Leaving this class, and most importantly Ms. Freisberg, is one of the hardest parts for me about graduating, but this is why they call graduation 'bittersweet'. Over my four years Ms. Freisberg has been the most important teacher and mentor to me. Through her willingness to be understanding, her constant dedication, her grand amounts of patience, and her tolerance, she has displayed to me her true talent for being a wonderful teacher. Not to mention, she has the best sense of humor, and takes pleasure in sharing a good laugh with her students. I could only hope that my shoes will be filled, and someone will look up to Ms. Freisberg as I have. Thank you to all of my editors and staff for a great year. Best of luck, and to the Class of 2014; we did it.

In Loving Memory
